MOOCS EVOLUTION INSIDE THE UNIVERSITIES: WHAT'S NEW?

Federica Brambilla

The success and the widespread diffusion of MOOCs pushed almost all universities to find their own position around this topic. There are more and more initiatives and more and more universities are now offering MOOCs or they are following some of them. But what is the effort required to a single university to create a MOOC? Which are the most common models, strategies and integration modalities within the universities? Insight and ideas browsing the web.

FUN: THE CASE OF THE FRENCH GOVERNAMENTAL MOOC

Nicoletta Trentinaglia

FUN is the MOOCs portal created by the French Ministère de l'Enseignement Supérieur et de la Recherche, targeted to France and francophone countries, to improve the quality of knowledge in Education and Life Long Learning trough the support of digital technologies. The initiative has been launched at the end of 2013 and foresees to offer, within the summer 2014, 55 MOOCs to users on many different subjects. At the same time, FUN intends to enlarge the network of educational institutions that join the initiative. To this aim, FUN gives specific instructions to potential candidates on how to apply and how to propose MOOCs to be offered on the portal. FUN provides also dedicated design guides that support the MOOCs creation process step by step responding to specific quality standards.
