Public health

is "the science and art of preventing disease, prolonging life and promoting health through the organized efforts and informed choices of society, organizations, public and private, communities and individuals" (1920, C.E.A. Winslow)

It is concerned with threats to health based on population health analysis. The population in question can be as small as a handful of people or as large as all the inhabitants of several continents (for instance, in the case of a pandemic). The dimensions of health can encompass "a state of complete physical, mental and social well-being and not merely the absence of disease or infirmity", as defined by the United Nations' World Health Organization.

Public health incorporates the interdisciplinary approaches of epidemiology, biostatistics and health services. Environmental health, community health, behavioral health, health economics, public policy, insurance medicine and occupational health (occupational medicine) are other important subfields.

Evaluation of proposals

7 ways to create EU-added value

1. Implementing EU legislation
2. Economies of scale
3. Promotion of best practice
4. Benchmarking for decision making
5. Cross border threats
6. Movement of persons
7. Networking

7 ways to create EU-added value

1. Implementing EU legislation

- Objective: ensuring that legislation is implemented correctly
- Example: JA on Facilitating collaboration on organ donation between national authorities in the EU

2. Economies of scale

- demonstrate 'return on investment' for MS & ensure sustainability
- Objective: To save money, and to provide better service to citizens
- Target: No duplication of efforts
- Example: JA on Forecasting health workforce needs for effective planning in the EU

7 ways to create EU-added value

3. Promotion of best practice

- Objective: Citizens benefit from state of the art best practice, capacity building where necessary
- Target: 'best practice' applied in all participating MS
- Example: JA on Mental Health and well-being

4. Benchmarking for decision making

- Focus on indicators with real impact on decision making.
- Objective: To facilitate evidence based decision making
- Target: Real time data comparison available
- Example: JA on Improvement of HIV prevention in Europe

7 ways to create EU-added value

5. Cross border threats

- Objective: To reduce risks and mitigate consequences of health threats
- Target: Depending on individual threats
- Example: JA on the impact on maritime transport of health threats

7 ways to create EU-added value

6. Movement of persons

- Patients crossing borders, migration issues and Brain drain - movement of workers across Europe
- High 'EU legitimacy'. Ensure high quality Public Health across EU MS. Added value depends on the scale of the problem
- Example: JA on Forecasting health workforce needs for effective planning in the EU

7 ways to create EU-added value

7. Networking

- Very difficult to put into objectives, targets, and indicators.
- Is a 'side effect' of other actions
- Is the rationale of the funding of 'networks'
- Is very important for dissemination of the results to all MS including non-participants

3rd HP: New procedure for JA

- Direct grant procedure = > all participants have to be nominated first (no open call!)
- If a European umbrella organisation/NGO wants to participate in a JA, it must be designated by a MS competent authority through a transparent procedure.
- For the "follow-up" JA (second phase of an existing JA): because an organisation is part of the running/finishing JA, this organisation is not automatically designated to participate in the new JA on the same topic!
- As in PHP2, international organisations (e.g. WHO, OECD, etc.) are not eligible to participate.
- Chafea will carry out spot checks concerning the transparency and legality of the designation process.

Cooperation & Coordination In Cancer Research

The European Partnership for Action Against Cancer (EPAAC) was launched in 2009, after the European Commission published its Communication on Action Against Cancer: European Partnership.

The specificity of the Partnership is that it brings together the efforts of different stakeholders into a joint response to prevent and control cancer. In its initial phase, until early 2014, the work of the Partnership will be taken forward through a Joint Action (cofinanced by the EU Health Programme). The National Institute of Public Health in Slovenia has assumed the role of leader of the EPAAC Joint Action, which encompasses 36 associated partners from across Europe and over 100 collaborating partners.
